Community Impact

ONE i/e is making strides in helping our current and future startup founders with educational programming and mentorship.

Economic Development in Action

Through the help of several community partners we have been able to help and develop more than 100 startup founders. From the Startup Daycare Program in California to the Oak Gardens Church and Addison TreeHouse Startup Bootcamps in Texas, we have begun to see more founders move towards creating real revenue. Our community partner CIELO has reported that of the 36 participants in the Startup Daycare Program, around 15 have already begun creating home-based daycare in their local community. Startup Bootcamp Info Meetings registrations were sold out with waitlists. More than 64% of Startup Bootcamp and Mentorship Participants are in sustainable revenue.

Sponsorships have included Randolph Brooks Federal Credit Union, SBDC Orange County, City of Huntington Beach, First Five California, Huntington Beach Union High School District, and The Dallas Entrepreneurship Center.

Startup Student Impact

Adopting the Entrepreneurial Lens

ONE i/e is teaching growth mindset and entrepreneurial skill development to startup founders from 4th grade through graduate master level university programs. Partnerships with K-12 School Districts in underserved and underrepresented communities in both California and Texas has allowed us to play a role in more than 120 students skill development with more than 45% parent participation and involvement. Through College and University Partnerships, we have been able to help student founders achieve product-market fit and achieve revenue and investment through customer discovery skillset development and effective mentorship.

Sponsorships have included Galleria at Tyler Mall, Frisco Education Foundation, Riverside Community College, Alvord Unified School District, University of Redlands, Entrepreneur High School and the Texas A&M McFerrin Center for Entrepreneurship.

Corporate Innovation Impact

Adapting Through Intrapreneurship

Intrapreneurship is corporate innovation through an entrepreneurial lens. Product managers and corporate innovators from small and large companies engage in agile innovation and commercialization using the ONE i/e entrepreneurial process for ideation through implementation. Partnerships with corporations such as Caliber Collision and the Toyota Innovation Lab has allowed employees to learn a growth mindset and entrepreneurial approach to innovation for new developments, product pivots, and new services brought to market within the corporate structure. Customer discovery and product-market fit validation becomes the foundation of all development and iteration prior to commercialization.
